

Liberalist or Fatalist — Which are You?

In in your textbook read the essay on pp. 301-302 that discusses Fate. After reading the essay, write a well-developed paragraph in which you explain whether you are a Fatalist or a Libertarian based on the definitions in the essay. Give reasons for your decision. As part of your explanation include how your decision affects the level of your responsibility for your life. If you insist you can be both, write a persuasive paragraph proving how these opposites can exist simultaneously. This is not easy, so be sure you have legitimate, valid, convincing arguments in support of your position.

This is due at the beginning of the next class. While you will not be receiving a mechanics grade on this paragraph, you should always be writing as mechanically and grammatically correct as you can.
